// ABOUT THE BLOG

My name is Cassie and I blog at Southeast by Midwest about all things beauty. I post product reviews, makeup/hair tutorials, and general beauty topics to name a few. I started Southeast by Midwest in May 2012 and have seen steady growth over the past four years. Along with growth, my content has only gotten better. In August 2015, I decided to take my love of beauty a step further and entered Cosmetology School to become a Stylist and Makeup Artist. I will graduate and sit for the South Carolina State Board Examination in December 2016. Additionally, I have a YouTube channel where I feature beauty videos as well. I look forward to working with your company!
